HENRY C. BARKLEY.

Unexpected Death at Noon Yesterday of This Good Citizen.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FUNERAL.

This community was shocked yesterday noon by the announcement that Henry C. Barkley was dead.

His demise was so unexpected that many failed to believe the report, for he had been in usual good health up to Tuesday, and even since that time had remained indoors only because of the inclement weather.

He had not been seen, but occupied the time in reading and in conversing with the members of his family; and only an hour before his death he had enjoyed a visit from an old friend from a distant city who had called to pay his respects.

Shortly before the end came he was seized with severe pains in the chest and sent for Dr. John A. Reed.

Lying upon a couch, with his physician and several members of his family near by, without forwarding the spark went out—and Henry Barkley was dead.

Henry C. Barkley was born in Lewis county May 14th, 1830.

His parents were pioneers of that section, and their name occupies a conspicuous place in the annals of that county.

It was on the 7th day of the present month that THE LEADER contained this item.

"Half a century! Today just fifty years ago Mr. Henry C. Barkley began his business career in this city. January 7th, 1847, he engaged as clerk in the drygoods store of W. W. Lemar, which was then located where John T. Martin & Co. now are; and he has continued in business here uninterruptedly to this date. It is a wonderful record."

Little was it thought then that the record was so long, to close.

May 6th, 1861, he was married to Miss Isabella I. Howell, who survives with five children—two sons, Harry H. and Frank Owens, and three daughters, Misses Isabella L., Helen G. and Mary Florence.

An affectionate husband and considerate father, his home life was a happy one. He leaves, also, three brothers, T. J. Barkley of Cincinnati, D. L. Barkley of Lawrence, Kas. & B. Barkley of Lexington, Mo., and two sisters, Miss Eliza Barkley and Mrs. Rebecca Means, both of Tullahoma.

In 1860 Mr. Barkley became a member of the hardware firm of Puckard, Owens & Barkley, and when fire destroyed their establishment in 1863 he and the late Colonel Frank S. Owens formed the well known firm of Owens & Barkley.

This firm grew rapidly in popularity, doing a business of some $400,000 annually; but the bankruptcy law, the panic of 1873, and the long-continued business depression finally shut upon it, and it was forced to retire—not, however, without a full and satisfactory settlement with its creditors.

In 1880 Mr. Barkley began the shoe business on his own account, and this he continued to the day of his death.

Mr. Barkley had been a member of the Christian Church since 1848, and his purse was always open to the needs of the worthy.

As a citizen he was liberal and enterprising, and his helping hand will be missed in many ways.

As an active business man, he was next to the oldest in the city—and it may be said, literally, that "he died in the harness."

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 13 West Third street, Monday at 11 o'clock a. m. with services by the Rev. S. D. Dutcher of the Christian Church.

A Lexow Committee is expected to reveal much rottenness in municipal affairs at Kansas City.

There were 169 couples married in Bourbon county last year. Of this number 90 couples were white and 79 were colored.

James Barrow, an attendant at the Spencer Asylum for the Insane in West Virginia, was beaten to death by an inmate.

There is already a conflict on between Sheriff Plummer and Judge Bennett of Campbell county as to who shall foot the bill for the Jackson-Walling scaffold.

Sheriff Plummer wants the scaffold bought by the Lexington authorities on which Laughlin was so successfully swung off, while Judge Bennett wants the county to build its own scaffold and preserve it for future use.

JUDGE DENNY'S SLUR.

He Makes an Unwarranted Reference to Editor Sam Roberts.

A special to The Courier-Journal says it has been rumored for several days that Judge George Denny had written to President elect McKinley regarding the Collectorship in Lexington.

The report had it that the letter had been sent to Mr. Sam J. Roberts, who was showing it to several of his close friends.

A reporter met Judge Denny and asked: "Judge, what about those letters you wrote Mr. McKinley about the Collectorship?"

The Judge replied: "I don't know a thing about any such letters. I never wrote a letter to McKinley on any such subject in my life. I never asked him or anybody else for the office, and I don't intend to. I have been a consistent party worker all my life, and if the party decides to throw such a man overboard for a half-hearted worker in the party's service I am satisfied and will continue the practice of law just as before."

The Judge's unmistakable reference to Mr. Roberts when he says "a half-hearted worker" is creating much comment in Republican circles.
